It's Your Life, You Know

Dee Bowman

Life is filled with perplexities, puzzlements of various sorts. It has odd turns: seemingly insignificant things sometimes turn out to be terribly significant; things that aren't supposed to work out, but sometimes do; and things that seemingly should work out, but don't. Life is a tangled web, a knotty, mostly inexplicable web. Man seeks to describe it, to explain, and he can't. All he can do is live it.

But don't despair. There is more to life than just an inexplicable maze of un-related and un-controllable events. Actually, God made life, and it is to Him that we must turn for information concerning its proper management. Life can be a zesty, fulfilling experience, even in the face of difficulty or adversity, if it is lived in accordance with the designs of the Maker. Otherwise it's just an empty shell lived without meaning and with little genuine happiness attached to it.

First, let it be carefully observed that a life divorced from God has little meaning. Solomon paints a sordid picture of life in Ecclesiastes. He says that the sun rises and goes down over and over. He says that one generation comes and another passes away. He says that the weather forecast really doesn't change that much - that one cold front follows another, that "that which is crooked cannot be made straight and that which is wanting cannot be numbered" (Ecclesiastes 1:15). Paul the Apostle echoes the same sentiment when he exclaims, "If in this world only we have hope, we are of all men most miserable" (1 Corinthians 15:19). So let it first be noted that a good life begins by getting in touch with God.

Life has meaning when it generates service. Service is the essence of life. To put oneself at the disposal of others is to bring meaning to life, to be a part of society, to bring honor to the Creator. We are "all members one of another" (Romans 12:5). That means we are joined in service to one another. We don't all have the same talent, but we all have some talent with which to serve. Want a fulfilling life? Put yourself at the disposal of others. Get out of yourself and get involved in serving others.

Life has meaning when it is motivated by love. Love is the divine energizer. It brings things about. It generates the motion necessary for everything from good marital relationships, to good congregations of God's people. Actually, what is not motivated by love is of little value in the ultimate reality. Love broadens, softens, actuates, disciplines, clarifies, joins, repairs, and is behind every sort of human happiness. Love and you'll be blessed - even when things go wrong.

Furthermore, life has meaning when it is pointed in the right direction. "I am the way, the truth, and the life," is Jesus' way of saying, "point your life toward me or it will have no real meaning." The Hebrew writer must have had this concept in mind when he said we should run the race "with patience, looking to Jesus, the author and finisher of our faith." To look in the wrong direction is disastrous! You will have a wreck for sure.

Finally, faith is the substance for giving life real meaning. A life that has been lived without any connection to the life hereafter is foolish indeed. More than that, it's a terrible waste! Even the light affliction worketh for us a far greater and eternal weight of glory, while we look not at the things which are seen. For the things which are seen are temporal, but the things which are not seen are eternal" (2 Corinthians 4:17-18). You should know by now that "faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen" (Hebrews 11:1). Our faith is the basis for our hope. If we look in the right direction, we will see - off in the distance there - eternal life. Now that's a life worth living!

The Patience of God

Eddie J. Caskey

Paul, in Galatians 5:22, lists "longsuffering" as a fruit of the Spirit. Longsuffering or patience is certainly a virtue that seems to be entirely lost in our modern age. Almost everything in our generation is expected on a very limited time schedule and impatience abounds when that schedule is not kept. The drive-thru convenience of nearly every commodity in our society has made waiting in lines practically inexcusable. Unfortunately, this same impatience often spreads to our dealings with our fellow man. Christians, however, should be well exercised in practicing patience.

Paul, in addressing the brethren in Ephesus, wrote, "I, therefore, the prisoner of the Lord, beseech you to walk worthy of the calling with which you were called, with all lowliness and gentleness, with longsuffering, bearing with one another in love" (Ephesians 4:1-2). Even though "patience" is the word we most commonly use today, "longsuffering" very accurately depicts the words meaning. We are required to "suffer long" with one another, and many times it feels exactly that way! Patience involves controlling and containing our passions, desires, and intentions. This enduring, however, must not be short lived, but rather lasting through diligent study and devotion.

To better understand patience, let us look to the example of our God's dealing with man. Peter tells us in 2 Peter 3:2-4 that "...scoffers will come in the last days, walking according to their own lusts, and saying, 'Where is the promise of His coming? For since the fathers fell asleep, all things continue as they were from the beginning of creation.'" But, then he warns in verse 8-9, "But, beloved, do not forget this one thing, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. The Lord is not slack concerning His promise, as some count slackness, but is longsuffering toward us, not willing that any should perish but that all should come to repentance." God is suffering long with mockers, scoffers, and all sorts of transgressors in hope that they will turn from their wicked ways. He is controlling and containing His righteous passion, desire, and intention for all of our good. He has done so for a long time!

The fact that we are all still here and still have the opportunity to come to the Lord and serve Him attests to His patience and mercy. Indeed the Lord has suffered long with us, and continues to do so. Peter's point in commending the Lord's patience is summed up in 2 Peter 3:15, "and account that the longsuffering of our Lord is salvation..." Has His longsuffering been of value to you? Let's give thanks that even though we have often been impatient, God has been patient with us!

Spiritually Productive

Shane Williams

We all enjoy seeing beautiful landscapes. Whether it is vast fields ready to be harvested or a magnificent garden where flowers bloom and great beauty is everywhere to behold.

What about a plot of land that is a memorial to neglect? Anything of beauty or that which could be good and useful can be choked out with that which is undesirable.

The apostle Peter told us how we can avoid being "barren" (useless) and "unfruitful" (2 Peter 1:8). He encouraged Christians to be diligent and spiritually productive, developing the character qualities of faith, virtue, knowledge, self-control, perseverance, godliness, brotherly kindness, and love (vs. 5-7).

Doing this requires effort on our part. It demands that we work on our relationship with God. We need to be reading the Bible regularly, praying often, resisting temptation, focusing on obedience to Him, and reaching out to others in love. Peter mentioned the additional benefits of being fruitful: a continued assurance, spiritual stability ("you will never stumble") and an entrance into the eternal kingdom of our Lord and Savior (vs. 10-11).

How productive is your life? Is your life in God's sight one of beauty or neglect?
