MARKET STREET MESSENGER

is published in the interest of New Testament Christianity and to enhance the work of the Market Street church.

David A. Cox, Editor

I can remember, as a child, playing with a new toy, based upon a popular action cartoon - transformers! These "robots in disguise" would take the form of a car or airplane, but could then morph into their native android appearance. Recent films, with their amazing computer generated special effects, have brought these childhood toys, amazingly, to life.

A much more amazing thing, however, takes place when one who once lived their lives in accordance with the darkness of this world of sin, becomes something so different, he is unrecognizable. The Apostle Paul exhorts us to "not be conformed to this world, but be transformed by the renewing of your mind..." (Romans 12:2). Notice the Apostle Peter's comments on this transformation: "...that he no longer should live the rest of his time in the flesh for the lusts of men, but for the will of God. For we have spent enough of our past lifetime in doing the will of the Gentiles - when we walked in lewdness, lusts, drunkenness, revelries, drinking parties, and abominable idolatries. In regard to these, they think it strange that you do not run with them in the same flood of dissipation, speaking evil of you" (1 Peter 4:2-4, emphasis mine). Peter says that the world they once conformed to, now finds it odd that they no longer have anything in common with them.

Instead of trying to fit-in with those of the world, Christians strive diligently to transform themselves into the image of the Son of God. Again, Paul exhorts, "Do not lie to one another, since you have put off the old man with his deeds, and have put on the new man who is renewed in knowledge according to the image of Him who created him" (Colossians 3:9-10). Also, "but we all, with unveiled face beholding as in a mirror the glory of the Lord, are being transformed into the same image from glory to glory, just as by the Spirit of the Lord" (2 Corinthians 3:18). Both of these verses remind us that the Christian's speech, conduct, and even his thoughts are shaped by the understanding of who Jesus Christ truly is. We were bought at a price (1 Corinthians 6:20; 7:23), we are, therefore, servants, and "it is enough for a disciple that he be like his teacher, and a servant like his master” (Matthew 10:25).

This transformation takes place “by the renewing of your mind...” This means it begins from within the heart. As already noted, the “new man is renewed in knowledge”, thus, when we struggle against the things of the flesh, being armed with the knowledge of God’s word, “we do not lose heart. Even though our outward man is perishing, yet the inward man is being renewed day by day” (2 Corinthians 4:16).

This inward change of heart results in a remarkable change of life! Won’t you be transformed?

Teaching Them To Observe

Bill Robinson, Jr.

True discipleship is a learning process ending only at death. Prior to His ascension, Jesus commanded, “Go therefore and make disciples of all the nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things that I have commanded you...” (Matthew 28:19-20).

True discipleship is not grounded in any ritualism, or creedalism. To the contrary, it is rooted in Christ, if one has “received Christ Jesus the Lord” and is determined in that manner to walk in Christ (Colossians 2:6-8). Thus, the disciple’s life is lived so that Jesus is honored as Lord in every way (Colossians 3: 17).

Jesus asks a penetrating question regarding discipleship, “But why do you call Me ‘Lord, Lord,’ and do not do the things which I say?” (Luke 6:46). It is important to understand the nature and context of the question. It is not spoken to those who have no knowledge or familiarity with Jesus. In fact, the next verse Jesus said, “Whoever comes to Me, and hears My sayings.” Jesus was speaking to those who would come to Him and hear him. However, the fact they would come and hear was not the determining factor of their discipleship. For the context reveals that not all who would come and hear have the will to do what he says. Sadly, some came and heard but would not do what he says. Thus, the true disciple of the Lord comes to Christ to hear and obey! The teaching of Christ is the foundation of his existence by which he weathers the storms of life (Luke 6:47 -49).

A true disciple of the Lord will certainly submit to baptism to receive Jesus Christ the Lord. However, submission to baptism will be a matter of course for the true disciple, for his heart and life will be characterized by listening and doing what Jesus commands as he/she remains faithful to the word of God. “Then Jesus said to those Jews who believed Him, “If you abide in My word, you are My disciples indeed. And you shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free” (John 8:31-32).

True discipleship is not about measuring ourselves by ourselves (2 Corinthians 10:12). The “litmus test” for a true disciple is not found in having the right answer to someone’s questions. It is determined by our life in submitting to that truth which is in Christ Jesus. Truth must be as characteristic of the saved as it is of the Savior (Ephesians 4:21-24). And their the loyalty to God’s Son must be as distinctive as His was to His Father (Philippians 2:8; Revelation 2:10; Hebrews 3:1-6).

That is why we are commanded to teach disciples (including ourselves) to observe all things Christ has commanded. Yet, even so, merely claiming Christ has commanded something means nothing until the true disciple opens up his Bible, hears the word, and does it for his/her Lord’s sake (Philippians 1:26-29; Acts 17: 11).

Being a disciple of the Lord means we come to His word because our desire is to follow it that we may draw nearer and be more like Him (John 6:68). Remember the words of Jesus, “A disciple is not above his teacher, but everyone who is perfectly trained will be like his teacher” (Luke 6:40; cf. also John 13:16; 15:20). To this end, we teach men and women to observe what Jesus commanded through his word, as it is revealed in the New Testament (John 12:48).

Role Models

Greg Gwin

When it comes to sports - we do it. In business - we do it. In almost every field of endeavor we look for role models. We try to find others who have been successful, and then we imitate them. God's word tells us to do the same thing in spiritual matters.

The best role models are found right there in the Scriptures. Jesus is the ultimate example: "For even hereunto were ye called: because Christ also suffered for us, leaving us an example, that ye should follow his steps" (1 Peter 2:21).

Other great heroes of faith serve as good role models, too. Paul urged us to be "followers of me, even as I also am of Christ" (1 Corinthians 11:1). In another place he wrote: "Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an example" (Philippians 3:17). Hebrews chapter eleven is full of examples of faithful men and women who serve as worthy patterns for us to imitate.

Some might complain that it is hard to fully relate to someone that we can only read about in a book. "Paul was a great Christian", they would say, "but we live in a different world. It's hard to imagine how Paul would deal with our situation." For these folks, let us suggest that they can also look to their own brethren. In any church there are faithful, zealous, devoted Christians who are working hard to live for the Lord. They resist temptation, spread the word, encourage others and generally work tirelessly to do His will. Look to them. Imitate them.

We know this method works. In all sorts of endeavors we look for "winners" and we copy them. Let's do the same thing when it comes to our most important endeavor - serving God!
