Why Be A Christian?

John L. Nosker

There are so many reasons for being a Christian; it is difficult to understand why anyone would elect to live outside the family of God. Perhaps a few comments on four of these reasons will help some lost soul to understand why he or she should become a Christian.

God Loves You

We owe our very existence to the love of God. We came into this world by His power to create life. He provides every blessing we enjoy: the air we breathe, our food, raiment and shelter. "...He maketh his sun to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust" (Matthew 5:45). Beyond temporal matters, He gave His son to die for our sins. "For God so loved the world, that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life" (John 3:16). His goodness and His love for us should cause us to love Him and serve Him, for "the goodness of God leads to repentance" (Romans 2:4).

Christ Died For You

Of all the acts of God for man's benefit, none compares with the gift of His son, the brightest jewel of heaven. Jesus came to earth, lived a sinless life, and went about doing good and preaching the gospel of the kingdom. His reward was rejection by the Jews, bitter opposition to His noble efforts and finally a shameful death. After degrading treatment and cruel scourging, He bore the cross to Calvary. From the cross He sought God's forgiveness for those who were putting Him to death: "Forgive them Father, for they know not what they do" (Luke 23:34). Those who reject Him today are crucifying Him afresh. Free flowing forgiveness is extended to them also. "The Lord...is longsuffering to us-ward, not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance" (2 Peter 3:9).

Heaven Is Waiting For You

There will be none saved in this dispensation of time except faithful Christians. The one who has spurned Christ must face Him in the judgment along with the redeemed. "It is a fearful thing to fall into the hands of the living God” (Hebrews 10:31).

Those not found written in the book of life will be “cast into the lake of fire” (Revelation 10:15). Yes, the fire of hell awaits those who spurn the invitation of heaven. Torment will last eternally. “And these shall go away into everlasting punishment but the righteous into life eternal” (Matthew 25:46).

Life More Abundantly

As recorded in John 10:10 Jesus said: “I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly.” Jesus was here promising life in heaven to faithful children of God. That is a compelling reason to become a Christian and live faithfully until death. However, earthly life in Christ is also a life more abundant.

Blessings of such a life include the knowledge of sins forgiven; the privilege of communing with God in prayer; the inspiration and personal development that comes from studying God’s word; the beauty of fellowship with brethren of Christ, and the comfort that comes from knowing that, “If we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin” (1 John 1:7).

The Character of Nathanael

Kent E. Heaton, Sr.

He was not numbered as one of the twelve but Nathanael was a man of great character before God. Little is known of him as the gospel writer; John is the only one who mentions him. The two references given of Nathanael are found in John 1 and 21. On the first occasion, we find Philip coming to Nathanael to tell him that he had “found Him of whom Moses in the law, and also the prophets, wrote – Jesus of Nazareth, the son of Joseph” (John 1:45). Nathanael was unsure of what value anyone would be who came from Nazareth.

The prophets had written that the Messiah would come from Bethlehem. Philip refers to Jesus as from Nazareth and Nathanael cannot see any purpose in the Messiah coming from Nazareth. At the bidding of Philip, Nathanael agrees to investigate the man who claimed to be the Son of God. Jesus becomes aware of Nathanael’s coming and greets him with great enthusiasm. “Behold, an Israelite indeed, in whom is no deceit!” (John 1:47).

Jesus knows the hearts of all men. He knew the heart of Nathanael and expressed it with words of confidence to the noble character he possessed. To be without guile is not to suggest that Nathanael was without guilt. Jesus acknowledges that Nathanael is a man of integrity, honesty and truth. Guile is a character of deceit, treachery and cunning. A person who is filled with guile cannot be trusted and is full of dishonesty. In a world filled with the wickedness of men, an honest heart is a rare commodity.

Nathanael was known by his friends and by the Lord as one whose heart was measured by truth and righteousness. He had a character that was humble before God and he sought to conduct his life with the integrity of virtue. David wrote in Psalm 32:1-2, “Blessed is he whose transgression is forgiven, whose sin is covered. Blessed is the man to whom the LORD does not impute iniquity, and in whose spirit there is no deceit.” To be without guile is found in the actions of our speech. Peter writes in 1 Peter 3:10, “For he who would love life and see good days, let him refrain his tongue from evil, and his lips from speaking deceit.” Honesty and truth find themselves in the lives of God’s people by the manner of speech. The power of the influence of the Christian is discovered in Nathanael. The measure of character is exemplified in the character of Nathanael. Honesty and truth are a must!

The apostle Paul exhorts the Christians at Ephesus to live their lives without guile. “Therefore, putting away lying. Let each one of you speak truth with his neighbor, for we are members of one another. Be angry, and do not sin: do not let the sun go down on your wrath, nor give place to the devil. Let him who stole steal no longer, but rather let him labor, working with his hands what is good, that he may have something to give him who has need. Let no corrupt word proceed out of your mouth, but what is good for necessary edification, that it may impart grace to the hearers. And do not grieve the Holy Spirit of God, by whom you were sealed for the day of redemption. Let all bitterness, wrath, anger, clamor, and evil speaking be put away from you, with all malice. And be kind to one another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, just as God in Christ forgave you” (Ephesians 4:25-32).

The final place we find Nathanael is John 21:2 where he was gathered with the disciples and Jesus appears to them. Nathanael remained faithful to the Lord and one can only imagine the great influence and power of teaching Nathanael gave to the early church. His character still lives on today as an example of truth and the noble character of virtue. "But also for this very reason, giving all diligence, add to your faith virtue ..." (2 Peter 1:5).
