Saul and Ananias

Randy Harshbarger

“Now there was a certain disciple at Damascus named Ananias; and to him the Lord said in a vision, “Ananias.” And he said, “Here I am, Lord” (Acts 9:10). While we recognize Saul’s intense hatred for the followers of Jesus, his complete devotion to what he believed was right, and his evident sincerity and good conscience, still he lacked what the Lord was offering — salvation through the blood of Christ. Fasting and praying might indicate a change of direction, but still, Saul needed to come in contact with the Lord’s will for his life.

The book of Acts indicates that when someone needed to hear the gospel, the gospel was presented to that person by a “preacher.” The gospel is communicated by a messenger. “How beautiful are the feet of those who preach the gospel of peace, who bring glad tidings of good things!” (Romans 10:15). Ananias is summoned. Ananias, at first, was reluctant to go to Saul. “Brother Saul,” a common greeting, was not a statement about Saul’s spiritual condition, yea or nay. Saul could not see; maybe Ananias wanted to convey warmth and good will to this blind persecutor. This meeting resulted in the scales falling from Saul’s eyes and his baptism (presumably by Ananias). Only then did Saul eat some food.

“Then Saul spent some days with the disciples at Damascus. Immediately he preached the Christ in the synagogues, that He is the Son of God. Then all who heard were amazed and said, “Is this not he who destroyed those who called on this name in Jerusalem, and has come here for that purpose, so that he might bring them bound to the chief priests?” (Acts 9:19-21). While the Christians in Damascus were naturally skeptical about the change in Saul, it is clear that he was soon accepted into the fellowship of believers.

When Saul obeyed the gospel, he was added to the Lord’s church (Acts 2:47). His relationship to Christ changed. No longer was Saul a persecutor; now as he preached Christ, he was often persecuted for this radical change. Saul immediately began doing what the Lord wanted him to do; he preached that Jesus was the Christ, the Messiah, the Christ of God. He argued about who Jesus was; he appealed to the OT in support of his preaching; he increased in strength and courage. Imagine the surprise of the authorities in the synagogues – those who had granted him approval to kill Christians – as Saul now worked with the followers of Christ.

Following Jesus always comes with a price. “But their plot became known to Saul. And they watched the gates day and night, to kill him. Then the disciples took him by night and let him down through the wall in a large basket” (Acts 9:24-25). Saul openly traveled the road to Damascus, pursuing Jesus’ disciples. Now, he leaves Damascus under the cover of night in order to escape with his life. Paul wrote to Timothy: “All who desire to live godly in Christ Jesus will suffer persecution” (2 Timothy 3:12). Paul wrote to the Philippians: “For to me, to live is Christ, and to die is gain” (Philippians 1:21). Are you on the Damascus Road?

When All Seems Lost

Jeffrey L. Smith

At no time in history have God’s people comprised a majority. Well, that’s not quite accurate. After Noah disembarked he and his family were the only eight souls on earth and, assuming they were all faithful, they were a majority. But that was the last time.

Jesus said that a broad road and a wide gate lead to destruction and most souls go there (Matthew 7:13). David proclaimed this a thousand years before Christ in Psalm 14. David described a world as ungodly as that which God years earlier destroyed with the flood. Some things never change.

God’s people are profoundly and negatively affected by ungodly neighbors. David said that the ungodly eat up the faithful as they eat bread (Psalm 14:4). To him it was amazing that the ungodly had no idea of the trouble they were in for, having rebelled so. Their disobedience would surely bring God’s wrath upon them.

David reminds the faithful that even though they can’t see it God is on the side of the righteous generation (Psalm 14:5).

So the next time you’re overwhelmed by unrighteousness all around you, and the next time you echo Elijah’s lament (1 Kings 19:10), remember that as long as you are on the Lord’s side, the Lord is on your side.

And if it's only you and the Lord, in a very real sense that is a majority. Until the faith becomes sight and day star arises in your heart, comfort each other with the words of Psalm 14.

BARBADOS: It is good to be home from Barbados. The trip was very enjoyable and I am thankful that Kerry, Hunter and Heather Hammonds were able to make this trip with me. The work seems to be going well there, but there are challenges they face. I was blessed to be able to preach at the Hindsbury Road, Central and Trents churches on the island. The gospel meeting was at Hindsbury Road. The brethren in all the churches wanted me to send their kindest blessings to the church here at Market Street for your continued love and support of the preaching of the gospel in Barbados. I look forward to telling you about the work there. I will plan to do that this evening.

I appreciate the church here for supporting me in the work there. Also, I appreciate the ones who filled in for me. Harvey Nixon for teaching my Sunday and Wednesday night classes, Joel Hamm, Warren Glass, A. J. Price & Buc Chumbley for preaching for me.
