"Faith Is The Victory!"

MARKET STREET FOCUS – 2023

Faith Is The Victory!

David A. Cox

'For whatever is born of God overcomes the world. And this is the victory that overcomes the world — our faith' – (1 John 5:4).

John writes, reminding us that faith is our victory. Faith in Jesus, who came to this life, lived a perfect life, and shed His blood on the cross to redeem me from the grasp of sin. We often sing an old favorite song that says, "O victory in Jesus, my Savior forever, He sought and bought me with His redeeming blood. He loved me e'er I knew Him, and all my love is due Him. He plunged me to victory, beneath the cleansing flood." We love the song, the sentiment, the hope, and the joy it fills us with. We often face times in life when it does not look like victory. We seem to struggle with the headwinds of life. Yes, in this life we are faced with insurmountable odds, but we need not give up because our faith is the victory that overcomes the world. Let us consider the victory we have through faith.

What Do We Mean By Faith? The faith mentioned by John is not a kind of wishful thinking. The faith in consideration here is grounded in Jesus, the Son of God. It is a belief in the character of Jesus, in the life Jesus lived, and in the death, He died to bring us the forgiveness of sin. It is the kind of faith the Hebrew writer speaks of that will be pleasing to God (Hebrews 11:6). It is the faith that will not allow us to die in our sins (John 8:24). It is a trust and confidence to do things that please God regardless of what things may appear to be in life.

Victory Is Real Because of Christ. Many things in life are not real; they are just a facade. They look good on the surface, but they fail to have lasting effects. Jesus offers us real strength to stand against the onslaught of the world's attacks on us. When faith is rooted and grounded in Jesus and the promises He has given to us, then we have an indestructible hope of the victory that is ours. We learn from Jesus how He faced many obstacles in life but continued to do God's will and defeated the world's greatest attack – death! Therefore, Jesus secured the victory and promised victory to all who serve Him.

This year the focus at Market Street will be "Faith is the Victory." Our desire will be to develop an unshakable faith that will not be destroyed. We will work to increase our faith, strengthening our hope and resolve to live for Christ.

"That Many Pastors Can't Be Wrong"

Jeff Smelser

So asserted an advertisement for a direct mail service used by more than 1,000 churches. One would think that even with a passing familiarity with the Bible, people would be reluctant to determine the validity of something based on the number of people who believe in it.

When the twelve spies returned to the camp of Israel to report what they had seen in Canaan, ten of them said, "We are not able to go up against the people for they are too strong for us" (Numbers 13:31) while only two said "We should by all means go up and take possession of it, for we shall surely overcome it" (Numbers 13:30). The people, evidently thinking that surely ten spies couldn't be wrong when only two spies offered a contrary opinion, balked at trying to invade Canaan. The ten were wrong—the two were right.

Goliath was a giant who opposed the army of Israel in the days of King Saul. It was the prevailing opinion that Goliath could not be defeated. "When all the men of Israel saw the man, they fled from him and were greatly afraid" (I Samuel 17:24). It would have been easy for a youth such as David to assume that so many trained soldiers, could not be wrong. But you know the rest of the story.

The law of Moses warned against being swayed by a multitude: "You shall not follow a multitude in doing evil, nor shall you testify in a dispute so as to turn aside after a multitude in order to pervert justice" (Exodus 23:2).

And Jesus said, "Enter by the narrow gate; for the gate is wide, and the way is broad that leads to destruction, and many are those who enter by it. For the gate is small, and the way is narrow that leads to life, and few are those who find it" (Mt. 7: 13-14) And yet the stumbling block for many in obeying the pure gospel of Jesus Christ is that doing so would be an implicit denunciation of Christendom, and it seems that "millions professing Christians can't be wrong!" They can be and they are. And the only way I can be right is to follow God's word without being swayed by the multitudes.

Improving

Joshua Welch

I'm working on a sermon for Sunday based out of Psalm 11:3. When I was in college 20 years ago (wow, that was a long time ago), I probably preached a sermon based out of this passage 3 or 4 different places when I was doing a lot of appointment preaching. Back then, I thought it was really good and reused it.

Yet, now that I look back at it, there is no way I could re-preach it today. It is a mess. It needs tossed and rewritten. It would be like preaching from a sawed-off shotgun. I'm not proud of my past when it comes to a lot of old sermons!

I say all that to say these things:

I am very thankful (and sorry) to those who gave me opportunities to preach when I was younger and patiently helped me develop. We cannot grow if we are not given the opportunity. Thanks for helping me through the growing pains and being encouraging to keep progressing.

Be careful of pride. You may realize someday you were not quite as good as you thought you were. Overconfidence often leads to self-satisfaction which gives birth to a lazy Bible student. I hardly finish a sermon where I do not think of some point, transition, explanation, illustration, etc. I could have improved. I try to be self-critical while being thankful God can use someone like me just as He has always used imperfect people to share His message.

If you don't look back at your old self and see you have improved, then you are either maintaining or declining. So, I rejoice that I can look back and see flaws and imperfections; it means I'm maturing. I imagine there will never be a day when I am finished growing.

So, whatever your goals (especially the spiritual ones), just start where you are and get to improving. I'm here to support you. Hopefully, we'll be able to look back at the old version of you (and me) and be glad it's in the past.
