Not Ignorance, But Understanding God's Will

David A. Cox

"Therefore, do not be unwise, but understanding what the will of the Lord is" — (Ephesians 5:17).

Speaking of His people, the children of Israel, God said, "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge" (Hosea 4:6). The lack of knowledge is not something God was pleased with in the Old Testament, and God is not pleased with ignorance today. Speaking to those at Mars Hill, Paul said, "and these times of ignorance God overlooked, but now commands all men to repent" (Acts 17:30). Paul, writing to the Ephesians, tells them that they were to understand the will of the Lord. Again, Peter writes, "but grow in the grace and knowledge of our Lord and Savior Jesus Christ" (2 Peter 3:18). Knowledge of the Lord's will is something all should eagerly try to acquire. There are several times in the New Testament where Christians are warned not to be ignorant of the following:

1. Satan's devices. Paul wrote, "lest Satan should get an advantage of us; for we are not ignorant of his devices" (2 Corinthians 2:11). God's word warns us and gives us the knowledge to fight against Satan's attacks.
2. Hope in Christ. To the Thessalonians, Paul wrote, "But I would not have you to be ignorant, brethren, concerning them which are asleep, that you sorrow not, even as others which have no hope" (1 Thessalonians 4:13). Paul goes on to speak of the second coming of Christ and that all who are in Him will be raised to forever be with the Lord.
3. God's plan for the future. Peter wrote, "But, beloved, be not ignorant of this one thing, that one day is with the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day" (2 Peter 3:8). Peter is answering the scoffers of his day who were mocking the second coming of Christ, and he tells the Christians not to be ignorant.
4. The righteousness of God. Paul, writing about Israel, said, "For they being ignorant of God's righteousness, and going about to establish their own righteousness, have not submitted themselves unto the righteousness of God" (Romans 10:3). The ignorance of Israel had led them to do "what was right in their own eyes" and had no concern for the righteousness of God.

Each individual needs to take time daily to read and study the word of God. It is a must for each one to make the time to meditate upon the teaching of the Lord and apply it to their life. Applying God's word is impossible until we know God's will, but merely knowing it will not change us either. We must grow! One thing is sure: if we do not spend the time to develop and grow in our faith, then we will be in the same condition as Israel of old.

Therefore, let us determine to take time to be involved in Bible studies at public assemblies and personal private studies. In studying the word of God, we will learn what the "acceptable and perfect will of God" is. We will be able to make the will of God a part of our lives so that we will please the Lord.

Don't Just Go "Back To Normal"

Roger Shouse

"This is the day which the Lord has made; let us rejoice and be glad in it." — (Psalm 118:24)

The new year has begun. Holidays are over and we are soon back to work and back to school again. Back to our routines. Back to normal. And that's just the problem. We tend to settle back into the norm and what happens is that we change calendars, we become a year older and not much else changes. Everything pretty much stays the same. There is a comfort to that, but it's good to be challenged and moved to a better us. This is why folks make resolutions. They don't want the same as before. They are looking for something better, something different. Most of us know that resolutions are generally scrapped by February.

Our verse today reminds us that each day is a blessing from the Lord. The Lord's patience allows us yet one more day. Some day we won't have any more. As this new year begins, fresh and bright, we know that there will be babies born. Some will be getting married this year. Some will graduate. Some will be off to college for the first time. Some will be finishing school. We also know that this new year will bring some tears. There will be some funerals. There always are. There will be some heartache. That happens each year. The calendars change, but do we?

Here are just a few suggestions to make the year better for you:

Worship better. For some, it may be simply getting to the church house on a regular basis. That's a habit you can get into. Some of us have that down, but we still may not be worshipping God with excellence. Better singing. Better application. Better connecting. Better fellowship. Move from just going to church services to actually worshipping God. That's a great start. That's one that will affect you weekly.

Try to memorize one verse of the Bible each week. Write out the verse you want to know on a 3 x 5 card and carry it with you everywhere. Put that verse on your phone. Read it. Repeat it. Over and over and over. One verse—each week. By the end of the year, you will know 52 verses by heart. That's amazing! That will help you. Try it.

Read some quality books. Of course, the Bible is on the top of the list. But make a list. I have. I know what I'm going to read in January and February. Stick to it and finish those books. Books that will help you. Books that will build faith. Books that are encouraging. Some of us aren't much into reading. There are two things to say about that. First, there are audio books that you can download. Second, turn the TV off, and read one chapter a day. You'll finish that book off in no time.

Pray more and pray deeper. Think about how the Lord has blessed you. Look at what you have. Not your stuff, but your family, your friends, your church. Thank the Lord more. Pray about other people more. More prayer is good for us. It reminds us that we need Him. It reminds us that we can't do it on our own. It reminds us that He cares for us.

Simple things. Good things. Things that will develop spiritual habits. Things that can lead us to be a better us. Give it a try. Don't quit after just a week. Stay with it. Put some effort into it. A better you takes time.

This is the day that the Lord has made. Rejoice!
